Discerning the Times and Seasons

The son's of Issachar walked in the Lord's discernment to know the times and seasons. God inspired them with His wisdom and understanding toward Israel.

As believers, we too need to walk in the discernment of

Founded on His Truth

Sunday Message will be held off Site
Away Game
Pastor Preston

This Sunday the Church message will be held at an offsite location. God is wanting us to learn how to walk with Him during these tough times. In the story of Joseph, in the book of Genesis, there were three men who were taken to Egypt during great trials. Joseph was sold as a slave and then he was taken from his family to Egypt to serve a master. Simeon who was Joseph's brother went to Egypt during famine for food and was detained and bound. Benjamin, another brother of Joseph, was required to come to Egypt during the nationwide famine against his will. Many in the body of Christ feel at this hour that they have been bound by their own past mistakes and now by even a greater trouble that has taken our nation by storm.

God has given to His children a revelation in these men's names that show us what to do when walking through troubled times. The name Joseph, the Latin form of Greek (Ioseph), which is a Hebrew name Yosef means, "he will add or increase". The name Simeon from (Simeon, Simon), the Greek form of Hebrew (Shim'on) means "he has heard or he hears". The name Benjamin from the Hebrew name (Benjamin) means "son of the south" or "son of the right hand".

God is telling us that the way to break free from trials is to hear from the Jesus who sits at God's right hand and He will bring us the increase for His glory. The Bible always confirms itself. We see in the New Testament in Matthew 6:33 that if we, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you." God in these passages was addressing the things that we need in this life to do His will and to function in society. Let us approach our loving Father and ask Him to impart His wisdom and understanding to navigate during this drought. He and He alone is our salvation. Amen

Most Common Cause of Fatigue that is Missed or Misdiagnosed by Doctors

Classic signs and symptoms of adrenal fatigue include: Fatigue and weakness, especially in the morning and afternoon; A suppressed immune system; Increased allergies; Muscle and bone loss and muscular weakness; Depression; Cravings for foods high in salt, sugar or fat; Hormonal imbalance; Skin problems; Autoimmune disorders; Increased PMS or menopausal symptoms; Low sex drive; Lightheadedness when getting up from sitting or lying down; Decreased ability to handle stress; Trouble waking up in the morning, despite a full night's sleep; Poor memory the Lord to recognize the times and seasons for our lives and for our nation. During troubled waters, the anointing of Holy Ghost comes on those who have an ear to hear to know God's will. God is bringing His body to a place where we here more clearly His inspiration that we may be prepared to take the proper steps of faith for transition. The season of change is upon us. During the season changes in the natural the temperature can be hot one day and cold on another. However, because we recognize the pattern we know to prepare for the change. The Lord is telling us to step out of the old man and step into the new man. The Lord has spoken and He says, Without vision My people perish for lack of knowledge or prophetic revelation. God's Word says that the Lord does nothing with revealing His plans first to His servants the prophets. Each of us have been given the gift to prophesy or share the revelation of Jesus that the Kingdom of God increases. Let us come together and seek the Lord to open our eyes of understanding to co-labor with Him to build His church. For more information on Linda's ministry, go to www.treasuresoflife.org/

Two Trucks for Free

We needed a new vehicle. The Lord knew we needed to receive favor. A friend gave me a truck that needed some repairs. The base truck was in good condition, however the parts to get the vehicle in working condition was going to be more than we had to invest at this hour. God made a way through another friend to inform me that he had an extra truck that was the same make, model and year

The good news is that natural treatments are very effective for this syndrome, and with time, patience, and the tips that follow it is possible to recover.

Probably the single most important area is to have powerful tools and strategies to address the current and past emotional traumas in your life. If you were to focus only on one area it would be best to concentrate in this area as this really is the central key to restoring your adrenal health. Listen to your body and rest when you feel tired (this includes during the day by taking short naps or just laying down). Sleep in (until 9 a.m. if you feel like it). Exercise regularly using a comprehensive program of strength, aerobic, core, and interval training. Eat a healthy nutrient-dense diet. Avoid stimulants like coffee and soda, as these can further exhaust your adrenal glands.

Why Mammography is not an Effective Breast Cancer Screen

Dr. Len Saputo explores the latest findings on the effectiveness and shortcomings of various detection methods used by the mainstream medical community, including mammography, clinical breast exams, ultrasound, and to a lesser extent, magnetic resonance imaging (MRIs) and PET scans. The second part goes beyond mammography, exploring a highly advanced but much maligned detection tool for breast cancer -- breast thermography. Breast thermography, which involves using a heat-sensing scanner to detect variations in the temperature of breast tissue, has been around since the 1960s. However, early infrared scanners were not very sensitive, and were insufficiently tested before being put into clinical practice, resulting in misdiagnosed cases. Modern-day breast thermography boasts vastly improved technology and more extensive scientific clinical research. In fact, the article references data from major peer review journals and research on more than 300,000 women who have been tested using the technology. Combined with the successes in detecting breast cancer with greater accuracy than other methods, the technology is slowly gaining ground among more progressive practitioners.

that we could have to harvest the parts we need. Only the Lord could plan for both of my friends who live in different cities to have the same extra truck available just when we needed a gift from Heaven. God's blessing over took us during our time of need. Thank You Lord for sending us giving friends, making the trucks available and giving us the knowledge to repair them. Jesus is King.

Outreach of Love

I was going through a difficult situation when some old friends came to help me with their gifts and words of encouragement. Thank You Jesus for sending me caring brothers and sisters in my time of need. Amen

Friends come to Help Me and God brings the increase

I was in a tough situation that was out of my control. People came to me and helped me during a great time of need. The Lord gave me favor to lead three people to salvation in Jesus and eight others to release unforgiveness and walk in freedom. Lord I thank You for helping me with loving family and friends during my trials and allowing me to minister to others during my storm for Your glory. Amen
